This is the coat of arms used in Australia today. It was designed in 1912. The symbols on the shield represent the six different states:

- New South Wales—the lion on a cross
- Victoria—the Southern Cross and crown
- Queensland—the crown on a Maltese cross
- South Australia—the bird with raised wings (an Australian piping shrike)
- Western Australia—the black swan
- Tasmania—the red lion.